CORE SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

In my time working since leaving school I have worked in many different fields such as retail, hospitality and education. All of these jobs have been in America where I was raised. I have only recently moved to Thailand and am a native English speaker. I really enjoy teaching and it's something I have always been passionate about since I was young. I have helped volunteer teachers in America and am currently working as a teacher in Thailand. I can work in a group or with others but am also able to work alone to a great standard. I like to see my students having fun and smiling whilst they learn something new.
